4th DUTH International Week: an EMERGE BIP

“Fostering an inclusive, sustainable and resilient campus”

Alexandroupolis, 20 -24 May 2024

Aims & Objectives:

The 4th edition of the Democritus University of Thrace International Week – EMERGE BIP will center on the theme of 'Fostering an Inclusive, Sustainable, and Resilient Campus'. Our goal is to provide a platform for reflecting on and discussing current ideas and best practices, including:

- Understanding Diversity & Inclusion & Creating Inclusive Curricula and Policies
- Promoting Sustainability on Campus
- Building Resilience in the Campus Community
- Fostering Collaboration and Engagement between students, faculty, staff, and administrators on initiatives related to inclusivity, sustainability, and resilience.

Target audience:

Teaching and/or administrative staff from EMERGE Institutions. Restricted places will be offered to staff from other partner Universities.

Mode:

Blended Intensive Programme
(Online, Thursday 16 May 2024. On-site, 20-24 May 2024)

Call for Presentations:

Academics, researchers, and specialized personnel are encouraged to submit their contributions and share insights pertaining to one or more aspects of 'fostering inclusivity, sustainability, and resilience within campus environments.' This presents a valuable opportunity to actively participate in academic discourse and exhibit your research on a global stage
